BRITISH INDUSTRIES FAIR

A MIGHTY SHOP WINDOW.

TRIUMPH FOR HOME MANUFACTURERS.

London, February 24.—The British Industries Fair is Great Britain with its banners flying.
With this exhibition, now occurring simultaneously at Olympia and the White City, in London and at Castle Bromwich, Birmingham, British manufacturers leave behind them the cold days of trench warfare and advance again to victory.
In a very short time it will be the talk of the world.
Would, indeed, that all the pessimists could be brought to visit it. Would that all who croak about British manufacturers being unable to take advantage of their opportunities could be made to pass before its miles of stands. Their pessimism would be conquered; their plaints changed to songs of praise.
British manufacturers have taken advantage of their opportunity, and this is the proof, tremendous and convincing, which should make every Briton feel a glow of patriotic pride.
Statistics have but a feeble use in explaining its true significance, since the spirit underlying this exhibition cannot be measured with a foot rule; but some figures may be quoted to give evidence of the very immensity of the effort.
There are 2,305 separate exhibitors. They are showing more than a million exhibits, each a masterpiece of British or Imperial production. The frontage of the stands is longer than sixteen miles; their total area more than 870,000 square feet.

BUYERS FROM EVERYWHERE.

Catalogues are published with an index in nine languages. Interpreters are available who can speak fifty. Invitations have been issued to every nation under the sun, and buyers are coming literally from the ends of the earth.
Just as an example of efficiency in organisation—and the credit for all this goes to the Government Department of Overseas Trade—buyers can book through to any section of the Fair from as far away as the Balkans, their tickets cover-without its being held. In the boom year of 1920 it was at the Crystal Palace, and another section, for the first time, at Birmingham.

BRITISH INDUSTRIES FAIR.

Then there was talk of abandoning it. It languished and nearly died until 1923, when the British Government of that day agreed to an annual grant of £25,000 and set it on its feet again. That is still its total cost to the taxpayer.

Resource and inventiveness are very strong features of this year's exhibition, since British manufacturers are out to beat the foreigner at his own game. Let us rather say that he has beaten him. Examples abound.

The former German monopoly in dyes and certain drugs is broken. Bromides are now obtained for the first time from an Empire source in the Dead Sea. Chemical manufacturers have produced 200 new British dyes since last year's Fair.

In instruments of precision and in fine lenses British manufacturers now easily lead the world. The Fair will show you why.

Austria once excelled in the making of china and glass ware of certain qualities. Not so now. Great Britain can make 18-piece tea sets for 2s. 2d., the set, or fine ware for an emperor's palace. All the newest, all the best things are British.

Exhibitors of leather and leather goods say they were never in a better position to quote competitive prices. Even wardrobe trunks, which used to be mostly of American make, are now being exported to America.

TEXTILE MARVELS.

The textile show at the White City is a veritable marvel. In this varied industry of cotton, wool, and silk Great Britain always led the world. Now she is a long way ahead. Lancashire, who, some said, was down and out, has come back to the fray like a giant refreshed. She shows the world a thread so fine that a pound of it would reach from London to Paris and a cord capable of lifting a ten-ton load; lace threads of ten fibres and yarn threads of 20,000 fibres; buckram stouter than cardboard, and a "paper" made from cotton that will last longer than parchment.

Know, too, and take notice that British fashions are henceforth supreme. If you doubt, go to the White City. Paris costumiers do not doubt. They are here, buying.

These are examples taken at random from the Fair of British ability and enterprise. They abound on every hand; they could be multiplied ten thousand times.

Leaving the exhibition, we can say with a new pride, hope, and enthusiasm in our hearts: There is nothing in the world or for the world that the Empire cannot now supply.—MONTAGUE SMITH in the Daily Mail.

LESSON, SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 20.

The Golden Text was: "Be still, and know that I am God. I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth." (Ps. 46: 10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:—"The day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up." Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." (II Peter 3: 10, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:—"Every object in material thought will be destroyed, but the spiritual idea, whose substance is Mind, is eternal. The offspring of God start not from matter or ephemeral dust. They are in and of Spirit, divine Mind, and so forever continue (p. 207)."

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

CUP FINALISTS MEET IN LEAGUE MATCH: WIN FOR THE ARSENAL.

SENIOR DIVISION LEADERS EASILY DEFEAT THEIR OPPONENTS.

A feature of the English League football matches on Saturday was the appearance of this season's Cup final teams, Arsenal and Newcastle United, in a League fixture. Arsenal retained the points by scoring the only goal of the match. Everton, League leaders, and West Bromwich Albion, their close rivals, both annexed the points with comfortable victories.

Leeds United, in the Second Division, were defeated, and the Wolves took advantage of this and their single goal win to enhance their chances of promotion. The lowly-placed Thames, in the Southern Section, did well in taking the points from Norwich, who are more than half way up the League table.

Full results and corrected League tables are appended.

ERECTION OF IRON
FOUNDRY NEAR NANKING.

The Gute Hoffnungshütte of Oberhausen is one of the works belonging to the Haniel concern which has signed a contract with the Chinese Government for the erection of an iron and steel foundry in the neighbourhood of Nanking for the production of rolled iron, steel and pig iron.

The earlier report that Germany was lending the Chinese Government $20,000,000 in return for the concession has been denied.

It is now stated that this necessary capital will be supplied by the Haniel organisation on credit.
The erection of the foundry is estimated to cost G. $20,000,000 and it is said that the agreement entered into provides that the Chinese Government shall issue bonds for this amount at 7 per cent. These bonds, it is understood, will be redeemed by instalments over a period of ten years.

It is announced that the erection of the foundry will not be com-

THE BOAT RACE.

CAMBRIDGE WIN

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, March 19.
Weather conditions at Putney,
if one was at all superstitious, favoured Cambridge in that the sky was cloudless and of the palest blue.
The water was glassy and smoke from the chimneys in the neighbourhood stood straight up in the sky on account of the lack of wind.
The crowds, which lined the banks for this historic race, started collecting in the early hours. Most of the early comers breakfasted by the river-side, cooking eggs and bacon over oil stoves.

Though Cambridge are 5 to 1 favourites the Oxford eight is said to be the best for many years.
The Cambridge President won the toss and chose the Surrey side and the two crews shot away at 10.28 a.m.

Oxford's Small Lead.

The Oxford Stroke set 35 in the opening minute whilst Cambridge commenced with 34. At the boathouse the Light Blues had gained a slight advantage, but the crews were again on level terms at Beverly Brook. When the Fulham Football ground was reached Oxford were a quarter of a length to the good.

At Craven Steps the Dark Blues had maintained their lead, but Cambridge were settling down steadily, so much so that at Harrod's Wharf they had overhauled their rivals and had put three-quarters of a length between the two boats. Hammersmith Bridge was shot with the positions unaltered.
Cambridge stroking 32 and Oxford
34. The early efforts of the Dark Blues seemed to tire them.

At the Dove.

At the Dove the Light Blues had increased their lead to one and a half lengths and were gradually drawing away from their rivals.
The pace had now, however, wavered.
Cambridge stroking 30 to Ox-ford's 28. At Chiswick the Dark Blues' determination, which had showed no signs of wavering, had reduced the Cambridge lead of 2 1/2 lengths to two lengths.

Cambridge Lead.

At Chiswick Steps Cambridge led two lengths. The Cambridge stroke, keeping a steady powerful stroke,
did not, however, yield to the Oxonian challenge, but increased his pace gradually in a steady final effort to lead by two and a half lengths at Putney Meadows.
The Three Mile Stakes. Cambridge led by two and three-quarter lengths. Oxford were struggling manfully, offering one of the pluckiest fights imaginable, but they were only just able to hold their own as with plenty of reserve, Cambridge relentlessly crowded on pace to lead by three and a half lengths at the Bull's Head.

Win Comfortably.

Barnes Bridge saw the positions unaltered with both crews stroking 32. At the Mortlake Brewery the Light Blues had gained a lead of four lengths and this they maintained to win comfortably in 19 minutes 11 seconds.

As the boats were sighted rounding the bend from Barnes Bridge, Cambridge rowing with wonderful ease, appeared to be only just padding while Oxford was almost rowed out, and appeared distressed before the finish, except numbers five and seven who sat up boldly after it was all over.

The Times.

Times clocked at various points:
The Milepost:—3 minutes 21 seconds, Oxford leading by half a length.
Hammersmith Bridge:—8 minutes 45 seconds, Cambridge leading by one length.
Chiswick Steps: Cambridge 11 minutes 15 seconds, Oxford 11-38.
Barnes: Cambridge 15 minutes
forty seconds, Oxford 15-55.
Finish: Cambridge 19 minutes 11 seconds Oxford 19-23.

EX-KING ALFONSO

ON TOUR OF NEAR EAST.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

PARIS, Mar. 19.
"When I arrive at a Frontier I have no papers and no passport, so I always say I am called Alfonso and I am an undesirable," smilingly said the ex-King of Spain to follow passengers on the liner Champion during a tour of the Near East.

A writer in Le Matin, who was on board the same liner, adds that Alfonso said that the only frontier at which he experienced difficulty was Germany.

DISARMAMENT
CONFERENCE
DELEGATES GO ON HOLIDAY.

(BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.)

RUSSIA, Mar. 18.
Members of practically all delegations to the Disarmament Conference have left Geneva for the Easter vacation. Mr. Arthur Henderson, Chairman of the Conference, is remaining at Geneva on doctors' orders.

THE GRAND NATIONAL

RACE DESCRIBED

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, March 18.
The Grand National was sensationally won by Forbra, a rank outsider, in glorious weather at Aintree to-day. It was rather on the cold side and the going was very hard. An enormous crowd witnessed a thrilling race, which towards the close developed into a struggle between two of the runners.
Thirty-six jumpers faced the starter and only eight finished.
The betting was 15-9 against Grakle, and 100/19 The Field was quoted on the course before the start, but once again a hot favourite did not justify the support for him, Grakle (last year's winner) refusing after completing the first circuit of the trying course.

Casualties.

All got off to an excellent start.
Apocalypse fell at the second fence,
after which Tootenhill and Alike refused and Vinecole and Glangesia came down.

Merriment fell at the fourth fence, Holmes refused at Becher's Brook, and passing the stands For-bra led from K.C.B. and Egremont. All three leaders had by this time drawn well ahead of the rest of the field, the leader of the second batch being Annandale, followed closely by Shaungolin, Aspirant and Heartbreak Hill.

Egrement jumped into the lead at the Canal Turn and K.C.B. was now out of the race.
When the runners entered into the course for the second time round, Egremont and Forbra were both well clear of Annandale, Shaungolin, Aspirant and Heartbreak Hill, all of whom were however, full of running.

Forbra Wins.

At the penultimate fence, Forbra took the measure of Egremont and won by three lengths in a battling finish.

Shaungolin came in a bad third,
with Near East fourth, Aspirant fifth, Heartbreak Hill sixth and Shaungolin, who fell at the last fence when lying third, and was remounted seventh.
Sea Soldier was the only other starter to finish.

Forbra won in 9 minutes 44 3/5ths seconds.

Irish Sweepstakes.

RUEBY, March 18.
Exceptionally wide interest was taken in the Grand National winning to the large sums offered in prizes in connexion with the Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes.
It is stated that English holders of tickets in respect of the first three horses will receive a total of £845,000.

The Prince of Wales and Prince George witnessed the event, flying to Aintree in their private aeroplanes.

HONG KONG AND MALAYA CADET SERVICE

CANDIDATES TO BE CHOSEN BY APPOINTMENTS BOARD.

SECRETARY OF STATE EXPLAINS
REASON FOR CHANGE.

Not long ago, it will be remembered, a brief Router cable from London announced that the Secretary of State for the Colonies had decided that in future cadet officers for Hong Kong and Malaya would be chosen on the recommendation of the Colonial Service Appointment Board, instead of by competitive examination. This would bring the Hong Kong and Malaya service into line with that of other Colonies.

It is considered that the Board is able to gauge of scholastic attainments by the record of the candidate, and the all important matters of character and temperament can be given due weight under the new system.

The current number of the Government Gazette contains the full memorandum on this subject forwarded by the Secretary of State for the Colonies (Sir P. Cunliffe-Lister) to H.E. Sir William Peel:

CHANGE TO OPERATE AT ONCE.

The full text is as follows:—

"I have the honour to inform you that, after very careful consideration, I have decided to assimilate the system of recruitment for the Cadet Services of Malaya and Hong Kong to that in force for the Colonial Service generally. An announcement to this effect, of which I enclose a copy, appeared in the press on January 20.

"Not printed."

As a consequence of this decision, which was taken after consultation with the Civil Service Commission and the Colonial Service Appointments Board, and with the concurrence of both bodies, candidates for the Cadet Services in the above mentioned Colonies will in future be selected on the recommendation of the Colonial Service Appointments Board instead of, as hitherto, according to the results of the competitive examination held by the Civil Service Commission for the Home and Indian Civil Services. The position of Ceylon is special and will be separately considered in consultation with the Governor. In the meantime the postponement of a decision in regard to that Island will have no immediate practical effect since the recruitment of Europeans for the Civil Service is at present suspended.

I realise that there may be some who will regret this decision as marking a break with a long and honourable tradition. I sympathise with that regret, and I would hasten to assure you that my decision was not based on any failure to appreciate the valuable services which have been rendered in the past, and are being rendered to-day, by men who have entered the Cadet Services through the competitive examination. Many of them, I am aware, have achieved distinction not only in the Eastern Colonies but in other parts of the Colonial Empire, to whose general development members of the Cadet Services have materially contributed.

EMPIRE CONDITIONS CHANGE.

At the same time it is essential to take account of the great changes which are so rapidly taking place in the Colonial Empire as a whole. It is necessary also to remember that the whole problem of recruitment at home has of recent years been considerably modified, on the one hand by economic forces arising out of the war, and on the other by the development of fresh alternative careers now open to the class of man which the Colonial Service desires to attract. In deciding to discontinue the competitive examination, I have been looking not at the past but to the future.

At a time when the Colonial Empire consisted of scattered units, separated from each other and from this country by distances which the modern methods of communication had not yet bridged, and when the administration of many of these units was still in the pioneering stage, it was not unnatural that recruitment for the older Administrations of Ceylon, Malaya and Hong Kong should be linked to that of the Home and, especially, the Indian Civil Services with which they had most in common. As a natural corollary to the rapid development of the Colonial Empire as a whole in recent years, corresponding changes and developments have taken place in the importance, character and requirements of the general Colonial Service. In consequence the Services of the Eastern Colonies have now to be considered in relation to that general Service, and their affinity with it, rather than with the Indian and Home Services, is daily becoming closer.

IMPORTANCE OF COLONIAL EMPIRE.

Whatever may have been the case in the past, the qualifications demanded in candidates for administrative posts in the Colonial Service do not now differ in any essential feature in whatever part of the Colonial Empire they may be required to serve. In recruiting men of the same type for the same kind of work and in the same market, it is clear that the best interests of all the Administrations concerned lie in presenting a single united appeal to the type of candidates they wish to attract. The prestige of a Colonial Service, entered by one uniform channel and presenting opportunities world wide in their scope, must eventually be far greater than that of a number of relatively small Services with no co-ordinated method of recruitment; and the Colonial Empire as a whole has become of such importance, that no step which will enhance the prestige and efficiency of the Service which administers it can safely be neglected.

There were therefore the strongest grounds for adopting a single channel of appointment to posts of the same type in the Colonial Empire. It remained to consider what this channel should be, and at what stage the change should be introduced. I found that the overwhelming weight of experience and argument was in favour of the selection system. For various reasons, which I need not elaborate here, the adoption of the examination system would have been impracticable for the Colonial Service as a whole, however satisfactory it may have been in meeting the relatively small requirements of the Cadet Services. Moreover, the Committee of the Colonial Office Conference of 1929, which examined the question of the unification of the Colonial Service, explicitly deprecated the extension of the examination system beyond the areas in which it was then in force. On the other hand, the testimony of the Warren Fisher Committee to the success of the selection system and the fact that, as a result of that Committee's report, the selection system has been placed on a settled and permanent basis—and has been protected against suspicion on the score of partiality or unfairness, if any such suspicion there were, by the institution of the Colonial Service Appointments Board—led almost inevitably to the conclusion that, if a single method of entry were adopted that method should be the selection system.

CHARACTER AND TEMPERA- MENT.

While the obvious advantage of this system lies in its peculiar adaptability for securing men endowed with those necessary qualities of character and temperament which are not readily amenable to the test of a written examination, it should not be supposed that the introduction of the system need involve any departure from the high standards of intellectual ability and academic distinction which are admittedly characteristic of the services recruited in past years by the competitive examination. Under the selection system a judicious scrutiny of the academic records and attainments of the candidate enables a close assessment to be made of his intellectual qualifications; and the educational records of recent applicants show that the Services already recruited by the selection system are now attracting young men of real ability who, from this point of view, apart from any other, are fully able to stand comparison with those obtainable through the examination. With the added prestige which the Colonial Service will gain from presenting a single appeal to candidates, I am confident that there is every expectation that the standard already reached will be maintained and even raised.

On the other hand, the pressure of financial considerations tends nowadays greatly to enhance the attractiveness of any profession or service which offers a career as soon as possible after the conclusion of a University course and which does not impose any additional hazard such as a severe and hoc examination, involving delay and, in some cases, additional expense. In this respect there is a marked difference between post-war and pre-war conditions. In view of this and of the remarkable increase in the prestige and popularity of the main Colonial Service, which does not impose any academic test apart from those provided by the ordinary University curriculum, there are strong grounds for supposing that, were the Eastern Colonies to retain the examination, they would, as time went on, find their field of choice seriously restricted as compared with that at the disposal of the rest of the Service.

PARTIALITY.

It will be seen therefore that under the conditions of to-day the adoption of a common method of entry for the whole Service is likely to prove generally advantageous, not only to the Colonial Service as a whole, but to each of its component elements. It is further clear that the two main arguments used in the past for the retention of the competitive examination, i.e. (1) that the selection system was difficult to defend against charges of partiality and (2) that it did not produce a sufficiently high standard of intellectual ability, can no longer be substantiated. On the other hand the selection system has been proved to possess distinct advantages both in widening field of choice and in enabling weight to be given more easily to qualifications which are of great importance in the candidates to be selected. The results of the change can, of course, only be judged from experience, but I feel that there is every reason to look upon the future with confidence.

TO START IN 1932.

Assuming then that the change was to be made, there were convincing arguments for making it immediately. In the ordinary way I should have wished to give as long notice as possible of such a decision but it was brought to my notice that the temporary reduction of other openings for young men, owing to the existing financial depression, would enable the selection of candidates for the Colonial Service in 1932 to be carried out under peculiarly favourable conditions, and that the initial difficulties which must inevitably attend any radical change of system would thus be reduced to a minimum. On the other hand, should the change be postponed it was quite possible that an exceptionally favourable opportunity for establishing the position of the Colonial Service as a class career might have been missed. I did not feel justified in taking so serious a risk and accordingly felt it necessary to treat the matter as one of urgency and to announce the change in time for it to be introduced in connection with the selection of candidates in 1932.

As this despatch will, no doubt, be of interest to officials and to members of the public in the territories immediately affected by the decision, I have to request that it may be published locally in such a manner as may commend itself to you.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient,
humble servant,
(Sgd.) P. CUNLIFFE-LISTER.

BANK OF EAST ASIA.

LESS PROFITS BUT SAME DIVIDEND.

NEW BUILDING IN CANTON.

Sir Shoo-sun Chow, Chairman of the Bank of East Asia, presided over that bank's thirteenth ordinary annual meeting on Saturday. In the course of his speech he said that the profit for the year was $1,040,823.17 which, though less than the previous year, was adequate enough for the usual dividend to be maintained.

Supporting the Chairman were Messrs. P. K. Kwok, Wong Yun Tong, Li Koon Chun, Wong Chu Son, Chun Ching Shek (Directors), Kan Tong Po (Chief Manager), and Li Tse Fong (Manager).

The following shareholders were present:—Messrs. Li Lau Sang, Pun Hui Cho, Chow Tung Sang, Kwok Siu Lau, N. V. A. Croucher, W. Ngatse Thomas Tam, Chow Chi Nam, Fung Ping Fun, K. K. Lee, Li Tung, Li Pak To, Chan Tse Tsai, Li Po Tin, Lung Tin Tong, Tam Cheong Tsun, Tso Shuk Hon, and K. K. Wong.

Chairman's Report.

Addressing the Meeting, Sir Shoo-sun Chow said:—

Before I proceed with the ordinary business of this meeting, I have to record with deep regret the death of Mr. Fung Ping Shan which took place on August 2 last year. The late Mr. Fung was one of the founders and a permanent Director of this Bank and took an active part in its development and growth. The net profit for the year, including the amount brought forward from the previous year, amounts to $1,040,823.17 which, though somewhat less favourable than that of the previous year, is more than adequate to enable your Directors to maintain the same dividend of $3 and the usual bonus of $2 per share, and to recommend the transfer of $200,000 to General Reserve, bringing the same up to $2,450,000.

You will notice from the Balance Sheet before you that the total deposits show an appreciable increase from $17,879,736.34 at the end of 1930 to $23,987,583.43 at December 31, 1931. The Directors are very happy to be able to lay before you this evidence of progress made by the Bank during the year, but in view of the unsettled trading conditions throughout the world, your management has not been able to make full employment of the increased funds entrusted to us. You will observe in this connection that our loan account shows an increase of about $1,700,000 only.

New Canton Building.

The increase of the sum of $13,778.07 in Bank Building Account represents the price paid for a suitable site in the City of Canton for the future use of our branches. I may mention that building operation has already been started and I expect the new premises will be ready for occupation before the end of this year.

Our Investment Account shows a decrease of about $11,000 and has been written down to the actual market prices ruling on December 31, 1931. I do not think there is anything in the Balance Sheet that requires my explanation, but I wish to take this opportunity to inform our shareholders that the Directors are taking steps with the object of eliminating the rights and privileges attached to founder shares and placing them on the same footing as the ordinary shares. I am glad to be able to say that sanction has already been obtained from shareholders at the extraordinary meetings held on January 30 and on February 27, 1932, that will enable your Directors to attain this object in the near future. I may add that after this has been done, the Bank will be benefited to the extent that no bonus to holders of founder shares and Directors will be charged against the profit made each year.

With these remarks I beg to propose that the report of the Directors and the Balance Sheet at December 31, 1931, as presented, be adopted. When this has been seconded I will endeavour to answer to the best of my ability any questions shareholders may wish to ask.

Seconded by Mr. Kwok Siu Lau and carried unanimously.

Mr. Chow Tung Sang proposed, and Mr. Pun Hui Cho seconded, the re-election of Messrs. Percy Smith, Seth & Fleming as auditors for the ensuing year. Carried.

The Chairman announced that dividend warrants will be payable to-day.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.

SIX CASES BEFORE CHIEF JUSTICE.

MR. SILVA NETTO'S AFFAIRS.

Sitting in Bankruptcy Jurisdiction, the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph H. Kemp, K.C.) dealt with six cases as follows:—

- (1) The Man Wo Hong and Pun Pik-luen, alias Pun Ka-kit, and Au Yeung Tik-kam, partners therein. Application by the petitioning creditors to rescind the Receiving Order and withdraw the petition.
- (2) L. P. Gibley and Co. Adjourned hearing of petition.
- (3) To Po-wan, alias To Sik-pun, formerly trading as See Cheong. Adjourned public examination.
- (4) Kong Kwai-ting, trading as the Kwong Hing firm. Adjourned public examination.
- (5) Charles Maria Soares. Adjourned public examination; and
- (6) Antonio Ferreira Batalha Silva-Netto. Hearing of petition.

Absconding Debtors.

In the first case Mr. M. K. Lee appeared for the petitioning creditors. He said that the allegation was that there had been fraudulent preference. Now he did not wish to withdraw anything that he had said previously, but he would like to point out that since the Receiving Order was made nothing had been brought to light as sufficient proof for proceedings to be taken in Court to establish the fraud. In any case, he said, the debtors had absconded before the actual closing down of the shop.

Mr. E. L. Agassiz, Official Receiver, said that he did not contest the fact that his Lordship had power to grant the application, and the only thing he was concerned with was whether this was a proper case for exercising the power. He was not actually opposing the application as he could see the point of the creditors. By accepting the composition they would receive 30 per cent, instead of the 8 or 10 per cent, they would receive if the proceedings continued.

His Lordship made the order applied for on the ground that no public advantage could be gained by proceeding. He ordered that the assets in the Official Receiver's hands be handed over to the debtors' solicitor (Mr. F. X. d'Almada, sen.) after the lapse of a fortnight for any unknown creditor to apply. He also directed the insertion of advertisements in two Chinese newspapers.

L. P. Gibley and Co.

In the second case, Mr. F. C. E. Rendall appeared for the petitioning creditors and asked for leave to withdraw. He said that the petition was filed on December 31 last, after which the petitioning creditor went to Macao where he became ill. His illness was of such a nature that it would not be possible to proceed with the case for a considerable time. Therefore he had met the debtors and come to a private arrangement. If the petition were heard he doubted if his Lordship would make the order.

Mr. Agassiz said that he had no objection to a withdrawal as he would have opposed the petition in any case.

His Lordship granted Mr. Rendall's application.

In the third case, Mr. Agassiz said that no purpose would be served in carrying on the examination of debtor, and His Lordship accordingly closed the examination.

A Carpenter's Affairs.

The public examination of Kong Kwai-tong then followed. Petitioning debtor said that he was a carpenter by profession and was 57 years of age, and had lived in Hong Kong for over 30 years. Debtor said that he had signed a contract with the Industrial and Commercial Bank to the amount of $138,000 to do certain work in connection with the Bank's building. The Bank went into liquidation in June 1930, owing him $16,000 odd, balance of the contract money, in addition to $6,000 which he had paid to the Bank as security on making the contract.

His Lordship made a receiving order.

Mr. C. M. Soares.

Mr. Charles Maria Soares, the next petitioning debtor, said he was 44 years of age and was born and educated in Hong Kong. On leaving school, his first job was as an apprentice reporter on the Hong Kong Telegraph. Then he went to the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank and later to Messrs. Barretto and Co. When that firm went into bankruptcy, Mr. Percy Smith and Mr. Seth gave him employment and he had been with them ever since. His present salary was the $1200 per month.

Most of his debts was to Indian moneylenders. He first borrowed from them in 1925. He had speculated in Green Island Cement shares.

and lost $6,000 to Mr. J. C. Barretto. He had paid that off. That was his only share speculation. The cause of his present position was the payment of heavy interest to the money-lenders.

He had seven children only one of whom was employed and he contributed $40 to the house. His family expenses were roughly $470 and he offered to contribute $75 to his creditors, which was the most that he could afford. He had no property and no expectation in any will.

By Mr. Rendall, for two of the creditors: He was not a member of any Jockey Club and did not go frequently to Macao. The last time he had been there was four or five years ago. He had not been there during last year. He was not a registered owner of any shares, and his wife did not own any.

By Mr. M. A. Silva for another creditor: He left Messrs. Barretto and Co. in 1913. Installments he had been paying to the creditors prior to his application was $200 per month. He could not carry on that payment, and that caused the accumulation of his debts. He could not curtail his household expenses of $470 per month.

His Lordship made the adjudication order with the Official Receiver as trustee.

Mr. A. F. B. Silva-Netto.

In the case of Mr. A. F. B. Silva-Netto, Mr. M. A. Silva appeared for the petitioning debtor and asked, in view of the debtor's affidavit, that the matter be adjourned to see if certain assets were recoverable and if there was the possibility of arranging a composition.

Mr. Agassiz said that most of the assets were held by a bank and a part of it was debts in Saigon. He suggested that petitioner should go into the box and explain.

On the assurance of Mr. Silva that his information was that a certain amount could be recovered, and that the petitioner would give assistance to the Official Receiver in the meantime, His Lordship granted an adjournment until the next sitting of the Bankruptcy Court.

The Court was adjourned sine die.

BORDERERS QUALIFY FOR FINAL IN SENIOR SHIELD COMPETITION.

ARGYLLS AND 12th HEAVY BATTERY TO MEET IN JUNIOR

FINAL: NAVY BEAT ST. JOSEPH'S EASILY.

Scoring an easy win over the Police on Saturday, the South Wales Borderers qualified for the finals of the Senior Shield Competition while the Highlanders and 12th Heavy Battery also won their way through to the final of the junior competition by virtue of victories over the Royal Air Force and Borderers respectively.

Two league matches were also played; in the first division, the Navy beat St. Joseph's by 3 to nil, and in the third division, the Engineers beat Recreio by 4 goals to one.

SENIOR SHIELD—SEMI-FINAL.
POLICE v. BORDERERS.

A splendid rally within twenty minutes from time enabled the Borderers to defeat the Police by four goals to one and so earn the right to play in the final.

Taking a lead early in the game, the Police fought well and prevented the Borderers from scoring until the latter slightly reshuffled their forward line, bringing up Channing to centre forward. This move by the Borderers completely turned fortune in their favour and they quickly equalised and subsequently monopolised play in the closing stages.

Great credit must be given to the Borderers' defenders, who underwent a gruelling time during the Police pressure. Morrison, although he received a bad knock, worked very hard and, ably aided by Underwood, helped to stall the raids by the Police. It was Shepherd's goal which gave the Police their lead.

The Borderers fought hard for the equaliser, but their shooting was poor, and interval found them still in arrears.

After the Interval.

Channings was prominent in the Borderers' pressure, but could not get the ball into the net. The Borderers then made some changes in their forward line and within a few minutes Duncan got away to centre and Channings netted the ball. The Police also changed their forward line, Pile changing places with Clark, but having now scored, the Borderers took the upper hand and went ahead through Jones. The same player put the Borderers further ahead a minute later from Harris' centre. Close on time a splendid movement in which Podmore, Duncan and Jones participated, ended with the latter completing his "hat-trick".

The teams were:—
Police:—MacHardy; Blackburn, Brittain, Thorpe, Channings, Downman, Cornwall, Clark, Frazer, Shepherd and Pile.

Borderers:—Johnson; Mulhane, Morrison; Morgan, Channings, Underwood; Harris, Davies, Jones, Podmore and Duncan.

JUNIOR SHIELD—SEMI-FINAL.

12th BATTERY v. BORDERERS.

In a hard-fought tussle on the Club ground, the R.A. qualified for the final by virtue of their win over the Borderers by three goals to one. The lusty kicking of the Gunners completely put the Borderers off their usual clever game. The defence was well held together by Pardos, who so closely watched Harris that the Borderers could not move without being bundled off the ball. The interval found the Artillery two goals in the lead, Moore and Walker having scored.

The Royal Army Service Corps won the toss and elected to bat but they met with disaster for with the Bookunpoo bowlers in form they were all out for the poor total of 44, Cate (14) being the only man to get into double figures. Arculli (8 for 18), Rumjahn (3 for 23) and A. E. Suffed shared the wickets.

The Indians were given a good start by M. P. Madan (28) and S. Ismail (13) and with A. S. Suffed batting confidently for 45 runs they passed their opponents' total with seven wickets in hand.

SELECTION OF CADET OFFICERS.

Some of us may read with a certain cynical amusement the elaborate apology (reprinted elsewhere in this issue from the Government Gazette) of the Secretary of State for the Colonies for abolishing the examination tests for Cadet Officers. The bare news was announced by cable some time ago, but now the full reasons behind the change are revealed. There is soundness in the argument that recruitment should be for one Colonial Service rather than a number of smaller, individual services particularly if selection is to be the method. The danger of "closed preserves" and "pocket boroughs" is thereby largely eliminated.

The Secretary for the Colonies is, in fact, painfully anxious to assure us that "the selection committee has been placed on a settled and permanent basis, and has been protected against suspicion on the score of partiality or unfairness—if any such suspicion there were!" Perhaps in these democratic days the explanation is needed, even if it calls to mind the lady who overdid her protests. No human system can be perfect and it would have been better to have admitted, by a tactful silence, that the merits of a father would, inevitably, be allowed to weigh in considering the claims of a son. Appointments must either be made by selection or by rigid and automatic tests. Some degree of favouritism must creep into the former method, and the latter can never be perfectly adjusted to practical conditions. Neither faults need impair the efficiency of a Service.

The examination method has much to recommend it. For an under-graduate to get a "first" in a University honours school means brains, and character. There are distractions enough for clever men, and an athletic "blue" or the Presidency of important University societies often leads to a sacrifice in "the schools." The same principle applies to the young naval officer who gets his "first" in the examinations for the rank of lieutenant. Real powers of self-denial and application are revealed by tests carefully designed to reveal practical as well as theoretical knowledge, and the young officer who thus early proves his mental is given every chance of earning quick promotion.

We all know, of course, the bookish type that has a fair for examinations and is the delight of the examiner. Civil Service examinations are peculiarly tempting to that type of mind, but, fortunately, most bookish people have enough sense to go for one of the many pleasant posts suitable to their particular talents, and to keep clear of work where mere learning is of no assistance. The only flaw is that scholarly young men are often coerced by ambitious relatives with fixed ideas as to the proper career for the scion of a family distinguished in one particular walk of life.

The late Lord FISHER believed that "favouritism is the way to efficiency," and many were the complaints of disgruntled persons against "the Fish Pond." But the status of "favourite" was, in the Lord FISHER theory, only acquired by possession of the proper qualities. Entry to the Navy, under FISHER's New Scheme, was by selection first, and then by a not very severe competitive examination. The only weakness lay in the fact that the selection took place at the mature age of twelve.

On paper the method of choosing Cadet Officers appears as good as human nature can devise. A university degree of a certain standard is, presumably, the first qualification. The selection test is thus placed on the University authorities, who are best equipped for this work, and a competent board confines itself to questions of character and temperament.

There is evidently no idea of abolishing the Cadet officer in favour of the qualified professional men, except in the medical, engineering and other highly technical departments. The system of giving a good general training in the language, customs and administrative methods of a Colony, and then granting special facilities for specialised training is evidently preferred for a certain number of officers. The specialist must inevitably be needed to an increasing degree in a complex community like Hong Kong, but the Colonial Office are of opinion that a grounding in the general work of government should be given before officers are required to obtain the higher technical knowledge needed in their respective departments.

Tale of the Day.

Mr. A.: Of course, my husband's income runs into thousands.
Mrs. B.: How lucky, you are! Mine merely strolls into the hundreds.

Vells in Brief.

Tiny vells are having a tremendous success in Paris. They are gossamer affairs, made of the finest silk or not.

They do not come lower than the forehead, and may be worn either tied over the hair, inside the felt beret, or else over the beret. The veil certainly holds the hair in place in gusty weather, and dare one whisper it!—it conceals any possible lines in the forehead!

Fight Given to Loser.

There was uproar after a fight at The Ring, S.E., when the name of the wrong man was announced as the winner.

The contest was a 12-round bout between Leo Phillips, of Birmingham, and Fred Chandler, of Kenilworth Town.

The referee, Mr. Matt Wells, the ex-light-weight champion of the world, told the M.C. that Chandler was the winner.

His announcement came like a thunderbolt, as those present considered Phillips had won easily.

There was continued booing, and some men attempted to get into the ring. After five minutes of uproar the referee informed the M.C. that he had made a mistake, and that he should have awarded the verdict to Phillips, as his score card showed that the Birmingham boxer had won practically every round.

Coincidences.

Mrs. Charlotte Stanway, of Ongar, Essex, and Mrs. Ruth Ogel, of Blackmore, a neighbouring village, who were life-long friends, were born on the same day 75 years ago, died within an hour of each other, and both were buried on a Saturday at the same hour.

Rash of No Known Disease.

Experts at the Ministry of Health have been puzzled by a mysterious illness which attacked six children of one family at an isolated farm near Pickering, North Yorkshire. The children's ages range from 7 to 16, and the only one, that died was aged 13 and the first to be affected.

The symptoms were intense abdominal pains, with a high fever, followed by a septic rash which was described as "extraordinary, and fitting in with no known disease." The victims were not all taken ill at the same time, and adults who had shared the same food were not affected.

A post-mortem failed to determine the cause of the illness. Food poisoning was suspected, but exhaustive inquiries have failed to substantiate this theory.

Boy of 15 for Wimbledon.

A boy of 15, stopping on the Centre Court at Wimbledon.

That is the picture conjured up by the official announcement that Vivian McGrath, the Australian lawn tennis prodigy, will play in the Wimbledon championships this year. He will not, however, be a member of the official Australian team.

His remarkable rush to front rank is a striking commentary on W. T. Tilden's remark: "Catch 'em young."

Miss Macdonald's Lucky Stocking.

Appealing for funds for the Mary Middleton and Margaret Macdonald Baby Clinic in North Kensington, Miss Isabel Macdonald told a Palladium matinee concert:

Frightened to Death by Cat.

A baby girl, Dorothy Good, of Low Hill, who was the subject of an inquest at Wolverhampton was said to have died after being frightened by a cat.

The father said that as the family were walking home on Sunday night the cat went behind the child, who screamed, collapsed, and died.

The cause of death was given as status lymphaticus, brought on by shock due to fright, and a verdict was returned accordingly.

Died While Broadcasting.

Listeners-in to a symphony concert from a broadcasting studio at Vienna suddenly heard a crash, and the orchestra stopped playing in the middle of Dvorak's "Slavonic Rhapsody."

A few minutes' silence, and then the announcer informed the wondering listeners of the dramatic death of Dr. Ludwig Kaiser, who had been conducting the concert.

A heart attack caused Dr. Kaiser to fall, motion in hand, from a high platform, and he died within a few minutes.

ANOTHER WORLD
WONDER

SYDNEY BRIDGE

OPENED

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SYDNEY, Mar. 20. The Australian Premier, Mr. Lang, added to the wonders of the world when he officially opened the $9,000,000 harbour bridge, thus culminating seven years of labour. Sydney proper is now connected by the harbour with the vast suburban area of North Sydney.

The bridge which is an intricate mass of over 60,000 tons of steel, stretching 1,850 feet was built by Mr. Dorman Long, and was such a triumph for British engineering skill that when the two ends met in 1930 it was less than an inch out according to plan.

Hundreds of thousands of Australians and visitors from overseas witnessed the opening ceremony; trumpets blared, guns crashed, aeroplanes swooped over the world's loveliest harbour, and procession ships, representative of all nations, passed under the great arch.

The King's Message. The Governor, Sir Philip Game, delivered the opening address and read out a message from His Majesty the King, while on the north end of the bridge, the Mayor of North Sydney cut the ribbon with the scissors used at the recent opening of the Klivanskull Bridge, New York, which were presented by the Mayor of New York as a gesture of goodwill.

"New Guard" Moves. Just before Mr. Lang severed the ribbon opening the bridge a mounted police officer immediately dragged him from his horse.

"I declare this Bridge open in the name of the people of New South Wales" was shouted by a mounted man as he spurred his horse forward and cut the ribbon. He was arrested and gave as his name, Captain Degroot, an ex-officer in the Hussars. He was a member of the "New Guard" Organisation recently formed to oppose all attempts to socialise Australia, and which boasts of a membership of 300,000.

Campbell, the "Chief Commander" of the New Guard, who was absent from the ceremony, preferring to bathe, said "although we had 100,000 men we knew that one British officer was sufficient to deal with Lang and the Bridge situation despite the precautions taken, including the presence of 1,400 policemen."

A message from H.M. the King congratulated all concerned on the successful conclusion of a magnificent triumph of engineering skill.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, among others, sent a message congratulating those concerned on their achievement of which the British Empire may well be proud.

An amazing plot to seize Mr. Lang and to throw him into the river at the opening ceremony, which was disclosed yesterday, seems to have been nipped in the bud and the "New Guard" Organisation frustrated.

NO RUBBER RESTRICTIONFAILURE OF ANGLO-DUTCH NEGOTIATIONS*Many Schemes—All Unpractical[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]*

THE HAGUE, Mar. 20. A Netherlands Government communiqué states that the British and Dutch Governments have come to the conclusion that it is impossible to present conditions in a frame that will operate an international scheme to guarantee effective regulation of the production and export of rubber.

BRITISH CONFIRMATION

LONDON, Mar. 20. The Colonial Office has issued a Rubber Communiqué identical with that from the Hague.

In connection with the British and the Dutch Governments' rejection of the rubber restriction scheme evolved by the Anglo-Dutch interests, which it is understood, provided for the restriction of production on European plantations to forty-five per cent of the 1929 output, and for a proportionate reduction of the native output, it is pointed out that conditions are now very different indeed from those when the Stevenson scheme was inaugurated.

NO SCHEME SUCCESSFUL

The United States, the largest consumer, has accumulated an enormous amount of rubber, and the potential output of the world is now much larger. The suggested decision may be due to a disagreement with regard to the form of restriction, while it may have been influenced by the fact that no scheme of restriction of output of any commodity can be successful during the present slump. It is thought that the decision may mean, failing rapid expansion of demand, that the weakest producers will be forced out of business.

THE HAGUE, Mar. 20. "One hundred and forty-four different rubber restriction schemes have been submitted and passed during the past two years, most of which were useless," declared an eminent Dutch Rubber Authority to Reuters, who added, "the quota scheme had a chance, but careful examination proved that the difficulties in Malaya were insurmountable."

Large increase in the World stocks will result from the situation created by the decision of the British and Dutch Governments.

DARTMOOR GAOL MUTINYREMARKABLE STORIES TOLD BY WITNESSES(Reuter's Special Service.)*

LONDON, Mar. 19. Continuing the Court investigation of charges in connection with the Dartmoor Gaol mutiny in January, three Prison Officers told the Court remarkable stories of how they were saved during the perilous mutiny by two of the convicts.

The Prison School Master and his Assistant locked themselves in the school house when the outbreak occurred. The mob advanced, armed with all sorts of weapons, and broke into the school house where they held a short discussion as to whether they should "do them in" and decided that "They are not so bad." They told them to get outside after which they fired the building.

The School Master frankly attributed the saving of his life to the action of two of the convicts.

Another Prison Officer likewise gave evidence that he was saved by the intervention of another of the accused, after being knocked down and hit.

The accused were not manacled when they were put in the dock to-day.

The Chairman of the Bench congratulated them on their good behaviour in Court and broad smiles wreathed the faces of the accused who chorused "Thank you, Sir."

During the hearing the accused "flooded" their Counsel with hundreds of bits, many of which were used in cross-examination.

SCOTTISH SOCCER VICTORYTHREE GOALS TO ONE AT HAMPDEN PARK[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]*

LONDON, Mar. 20. At Hampden Park before a crowd of 10,000 people Scotland beat England by three goals to one, for the amateur Soccer Championship.

THE INDIAN PROBLEMGOVERNMENT GOES AHEAD WITH OWN SCHEME[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]*

LONDON, Mar. 20. After the failure of the delegates to the Indian Round Table Conference to solve the Communal Problem themselves, the British Government, in accordance with the Prime Minister's statement in December, firmly intends to introduce without delay its own scheme of provisional settlement.

The Government statement about this matter says that they are at present engaged in a careful re-examination of the difficult controversial questions involved.

OBITUARYFRENCH GENERAL DIES IN SHANGHAI(From Our Own Correspondent.)*

SHANGHAI, Mar. 20. Colonel A. F. Marceire, Commandant of the French Forces in Shanghai, has died of pneumonia at the age of fifty-three. He has been in Shanghai since 1930, and during the recent war was in charge of the defence measures in the French Concession.

DEATH OF CONSERVATIVE M.P.[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, Mar. 19. The death occurred to-day of Doctor Hillman, Conservative member of Parliament for Wakefield. At the last election he defeated his Labour opponent by 15,681 against 11,774.

THE BRITISH SUNDAYBILL TO PERMIT CINEMA OPENING[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]*

RUGBY, Mar. 19. The Government's Bill to deal with the Sunday opening of picture theatres and other places of entertainment will be presented to the House of Commons next week. The Bill is modelled on the measure introduced by a former Home Secretary, Mr. J. R. Clynes, in the last Parliament which accepted the second reading by two hundred and fifty-eight votes to two hundred and ten.

The Bill conferred on Councils the right to permit Sunday entertainments and protected those to whom licences were issued from penalties under the Sunday Observance Acts.

It provided that Councils, before granting licences, must pass a resolution that Sunday entertainments in the area concerned were desirable.

GREAT RUGGER AT TWICKENHAMENGLAND WINS CALCUTTA CUP[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]*

Twickenham, Mar. 19. The great climax to a hectic week of sport was reached at Twickenham when 65,000 people including the Duke of York witnessed the battle for the Calcutta Cup.

On fast turf and under a cloudless sky inspiring rugger was served up, the game swaying backwards and forwards.

After threatening dribbles by the Scottish pack Ian Smith scored a try in the corner which was not converted. Within ten minutes England struck back, twice being scored by Tanner and Aarvold, but both were wide out and Bursland failed to convert.

At the interval England led, six-three.

England gave the most virile display of rugger of any in the current international season. Backs and halves showed brilliant opportunism that would not be denied though the Scottish put up a stubborn defence. Bursland burst through in the twenty-fifth minute of the second half, handed off two Scots, gave to Aarvold, who scored a try under the posts which Bursland converted.

Gerard then weaved his way through the Scots defence to score a try under the posts, which Bursland converted.

Result: England, 16 points (two goals, 2 tries); Scotland 3 points (one try).

IRELAND'S RIGHTS!QUITE LIKE OLD TIMES*Defiance Once More(Reuter's Special Service.)*

LONDON, Mar. 20. Although De Valera does not intend to reply at present to Mr. Chamberlain's speech at Birmingham, the Irish Press, the Government organ, in a "spirited reply" to-day declares that the London Treaty is so worded that the oath of Allegiance is optional. Moreover, there is not a single mention of the Land Annuitants in the Treaty. The article adds that the Free State Government seeks nothing more than the legal and moral rights of its citizens, the assertion whereof instead of creating bitterness is necessary to remove it.

THE IRISH FREE STATEWARNING BY BRITISH GOVERNMENT[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]*

LONDON, Mar. 19. Stern warning against unilateral action on the part of the Irish Free State on the lines of Mr. De Valera's proposals to abolish the oath of allegiance and to withhold land annuities were uttered by Mr. Neville Chamberlain when speaking in Birmingham.

Mr. Chamberlain said that the British Government had not received official communication from the Free State Government up till now, and, unless the reports were officially confirmed, he did not assume that they were correct, but

TWO FAMOUS AIRMENOUT TO BREAK RECORDS(Reuter's Special Service.)*

LYMPNE, Mar. 20. Two famous airmen arrived here today ready to start for what is hoped may be record-breaking flights.

C. W. A. Scott will try to lower the eight-and-a-half-day record to Australia while A. Molison will endeavour to break the record to the Cape flying by the West Africa route.

lest there should be any doubt as to the attitude of the British Government, he declared that any suggestion that the Anglo-Irish obligations and agreements could be varied by either side, as though it concerned that side alone, would cause the British Government the gravest concern, and, if seriously pursued, would undoubtedly revive the bitterness of differences which was hoped to have been removed for ever.

Public Safety Act Suspended.

LONDON, Mar. 18. The operation of the Public Safety Act of the Irish Free State has been suspended as from yesterday evening by order of Mr. De Valera and the Free State Executive Council.

The effect is to abolish the military tribunal which sentenced political prisoners who were released by Mr. De Valera last week and to remove the ban from Saoire and the Irish Republican Army.

BUY BRITISHQUEEN VISITS SHOPS IN OXFORD STREET(Reuter's Special Service.)*

LONDON, Mar. 19. Early morning shoppers at one of the large popular bazaars in Oxford Street, which specialise in the sale of low priced every day requirements, were astonished to find H.M. the Queen in their midst.

In the course of a half hour's visit Her Majesty made many purchases, among which were toys and expressed great pleasure at the number of articles of British manufacture.

A big crowd purchased exactly similar articles as those bought by the Queen after she had left the shop.

HU HAN MIN IN CONFERENCETO SUPPRESS COMMUNISTS AND BANDITS*RETURNING TO HONG KONG TO LIVE(From Our Own Correspondent.)Canton, March 20.*

Mr. Hu Han Min, who unexpectedly arrived in Canton with his daughter several days ago, was in conference with General Chen Tsi Tong, Mayor T. K. Ching, Governor Lin Yun Koy and other military and civil officials of the Canton Government for many hours yesterday morning in his residence. The prosecution of the present anti-Communist campaign in Kiangsi and Fukien, the problem of national defence of the coastal cities of Kwangtung, the protection of shipping in inland waters were among those brought up and discussed.

Although Mr. Hu is at variance with the policy of Loyang and does not approve of the recent mandate of the National Government appointing Marshal Chiang Kai Shek chairman of the National War Council, which is tantamount to Commander-in-Chief of the Army, Navy and the Air Forces, it is authoritatively learned that he will not attempt to set up another independent régime in Canton, as had been reported. Canton, according to Mr. Hu and General Chen Tsi Tong will devote its full time and energy to the anti-Communist campaign and the suppression of banditry in the North, West and East River districts.

His Influence in Canton.

That Mr. Hu still has considerable influence in Canton politics is evidence. The numerous rumours to the effect that Mr. Hu has lost all favour with the Canton Government and that he is about to take a trip abroad for a rest have been set at rest. He is not going abroad, but will return to Hong Kong to live after the completion of the internment of his elder brother, the late Mr. Hu Sui Tsing, who recently passed in Hong Kong. The obsequies will take place probably on April 8, after which Mr. Hu Han Min will return to Hong Kong.

Mr. Hu's present trip to Canton was partly to complete the burial ceremony of his late brother, and partly to confer with General Chen Tsi Tong and others.

CHINESE MILITARY COUNCILREORGANISED INTO FOUR DEPARTMENTS*CHIANG KAI SHEK "DIRECTOR OF MILITARY STRATEGY"[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]NANKING, Mar. 20.*

The Ministry of Communications has announced that the time limit for the registration of shipping nationality originally set for March 31 has been postponed to September, due to the unsettled conditions throughout the country.

The Military Council, of which Chiang Kai Shek has assumed the Chairmanship, has been reorganised into four departments; Chiang Kai Shek will be Director of Military Strategy, Li Tsi Hsin will be Director of Training, Ho Ying Ching will be in charge of troop movements and Chu Pei Teh will be Director of General Affairs.

SHANGHAI'S FINANCESUNEXPECTED SURPLUS FOR 1931*EXPENSES OF THE RECENT DISTURBANCES(From Our Own Correspondent.)SHANGHAI, Mar. 20.*

The N.C. Daily News states that the Municipal Treasurer handed the Shanghai Municipal Council the Budget for the year, showing that during 1931 instead of an expected deficit there was a small surplus. For 1932 a sum of Tls. 1,200,000 was budgeted for to cover expenses arising out of the recent disturbances.

MANCHURIA'S INDEPENDENCEJAPAN NOT RESPONSIBLE(Reuter's Special Service.)TOKYO, Mar. 19.*

Denying that Japan was in any way related to the new Government of Manchuria or responsible for its appearance, the Foreign Office has handed a communication to the Chinese Legation replying to the Chinese Note of March 1.

In outlining the causes leading to the declaration of independence, the reply admits that Japan is sympathetic toward the new Government as it holds out hope that Japanese rights and interests will be respected, and that peace and order in Manchuria wherein Japan is vitally interested, will be maintained, but the reply emphasises that sympathy does not entail active support.

Manchurian Commission.(Reuter's Special Service.)

NANKING, Mar. 20. Mr. Lin Sen, Chairman of the National Government, returned to-day from Loyang in order to meet Lord Lytton and the League Commission.

Three hundred and nine civic organisations here are taking part in an elaborate programme of welcome to the Manchurian Commission.

When the Commission lands at the Hankow wharves a crowd of more than 7,000 boys and girls from the elementary schools will meet them.

Special sub-committees have been formed to attend to the Commission's entertainment and comfort.

RAILWAY STATION ATTACKED*HARBIN, Mar. 20.*

It is reported that the property and land owned by General Ting Tsao, Li Du, and Mo Teh Hui will be auctioned by the Urban Council. The situation on the eastern line is worse. The sub-station at Izvestkovaya near Ashiho was attacked yesterday by irregulars who kidnapped 20 railway employees. The district superintendent at Ashiho has telegraphed the railway manager refusing the responsibility for the movement of trains because he cannot repair the track.

THE SINGAPORE BASETO BE CONSIDERED AT EMPIRE CONFERENCE[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]LONDON, Mar. 20.*

The question of strengthening the Singapore base will be discussed at the Ottawa Conference, says the Sunday Dispatch. Admirals on the Naval Staff have been asked to draw up plans of what they consider should be done at Singapore which the Cabinet will consider before referring to the Dominion Ministers assembled at Ottawa.

WEAVERS OPPOSE CHANGEMANCHESTER CONFERENCE DECISION[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]LONDON, Mar. 20.*

The Weavers' Amalgamation Delegate Conference at Manchester has rejected the proposed agreement for the more-loom-per-weaver system.

ASSEMBLY'S NOTE TO MEMBERS*[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]GENEVA, Mar. 18.*

The result of decisions made at yesterday's meeting of the Assembly Committee is that the Hon. Sir Eric Drummond has sent a letter to the Sino-Japanese representatives, inviting them to inform the Committee of the measures they have taken or expect to take in the near future in order to carry out the resolutions of the Council.

SINO-JAP. MEETING IN SHANGHAITOKYO AND WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS*OPTIMISM PREVAILS AT PEACE CONFERENCE*SINO-JAP. MEETING AT SHANGHAI[REUTER AND BRITISH WIRELESS.]*

RUGBY, Mar. 19. A further effort to make completely effective the cessation of hostilities at Shanghai will be made to-morrow when the Chinese and Japanese representatives will meet at the British Consulate, Shanghai, together with representatives of Britain, United States, France and Italy.

The British Minister in China, Sir Miles Lampson, will be the British representative at the meeting.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS*TOKYO, Mar. 20.*

Following consideration of the draft of the truce proposals at Shanghai which Mr. Shigemitsu submitted to Tokyo the Government is expected to reply that the proposals are acceptable except the second item regarding the withdrawal of the Japanese troops, which is considered too ambiguous, wherefore Japan insists on her original proposal with regard to them.

OPTIMISTIC

RUGBY, Mar. 19. The formal Conference took place to-day between Japanese and Chinese representatives in the presence of representatives of the Great Powers with interests in Shanghai. The Conference which was directed towards effecting a permanent cessation of hostilities, was in session for two hours and a further meeting was held later.

At the close of the morning session optimism was expressed regarding the prospects of settling peace terms at a later meeting.

LONDON PRESS OPINION

LONDON, Mar. 20. The duty of every responsible mind now is to promote the process of quieting down in the Far East, says the Observer. If Geneva and Washington really mean to provide for a safer future, they will (Continued on previous column.)

NO VIRTUE IN GOLD?AMERICA AND FRANCE BADLY HIT*Deficits and Decreasing Revenues(Reuter's Special Service.)LONDON, Mar. 20.*

While Britain is surmounting her financial difficulties other countries are labouring through the depression.

In Paris a gloomy view is taken of France's financial position. The veteran ex-Premier M. Calhaux declared that the Treasury is almost empty and public expenditure has grown immeasurably, while receipts are dwindling. The deficit in the 1932 Budget will not be under seven milliards of francs.

AMERICA'S BAD POSITION*WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.*

Unless new revenue is found immediately the U.S. Treasury faces a deficit of $2,500,000,000 at the end of the financial year, compared with a deficit of $963,000,000 last year.

Total income tax receipts for the fiscal year which began on June 30 last, are little more than half those of the year before. Hence the anxiety of the Government supporters to rush through the sales tax which is at present meeting with extremely stiff opposition in the House from rebels of both parties, who demand an increase of income tax on the wealthier classes.

BRITISH CHANCELLOR'S WARNING*RUGBY, Mar. 18.*

After referring to the improved financial outlook brought about during the past few months, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, in a speech at Birmingham uttered a warning against optimistic assumptions that the emergency which called the National Government into existence was over, and against premature relaxation of national effort.

"We have indeed witnessed a change for the better since the National Government took office, which has been described as almost miraculous, but that position can only be maintained if we maintain the course that brought it about, namely determination to lay our way and balance our budget."

There is only one OVALTINE

DURING the past few years the reputation of "Ovaltine" has grown to such an extent that it is now a recognised household necessity in every country in the world. This wonderful success is due to the fact that "Ovaltine" represents one of the triumphs of scientific research in dietetics. The object of prolonged investigation by some of the most eminent scientists and chemists was to produce a food beverage in which every food element necessary for health was present in a correctly balanced, concentrated and easily digested form.

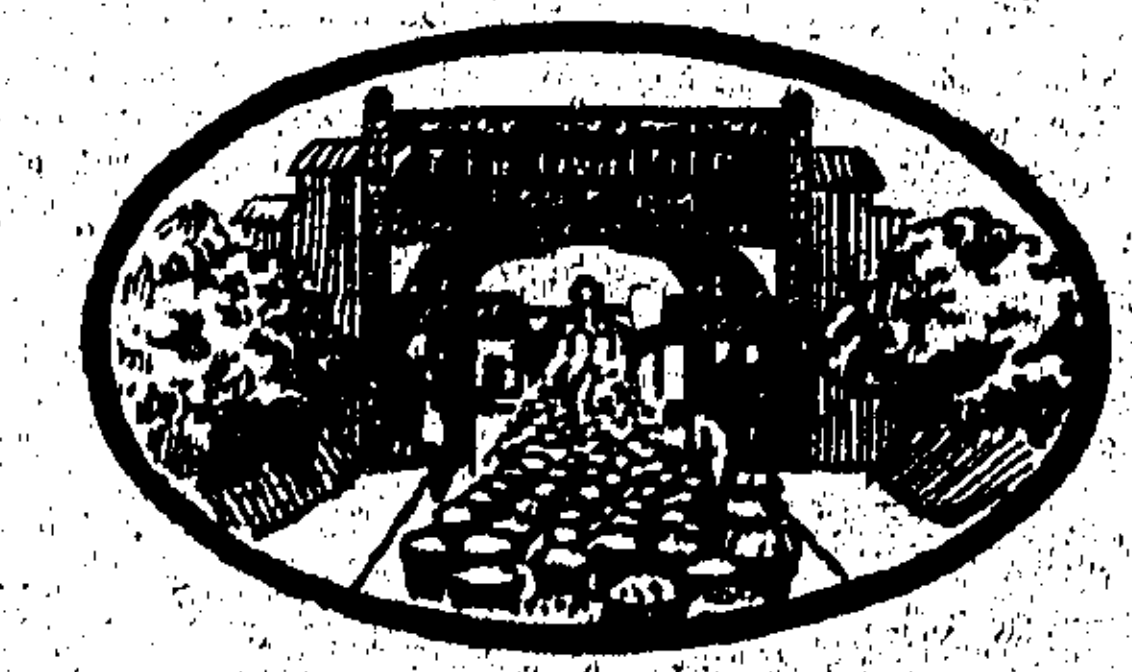

THE PERFECT FOOD BEVERAGE

The manufacturers of "Ovaltine" are by far the largest purchasers of a world of malt and milk for the manufacture of a proprietary food. They are therefore able to purchase, at the lowest cost, the best qualities of these products of Britain's farms and fields. They are also the largest users of new laid eggs. Twelve and a half million eggs are used each year and are obtained from the "Ovaltine" Egg Farm and specially selected sources.

AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES

The combination of these factors—up-to-date machinery, enormous output and world-wide sales—reduces the cost of production to a minimum, and makes it possible to sell "Ovaltine" at the present low prices. It has always been a principle of the proprietors to pass on to the public, by reducing prices, all savings in manufacturing costs.

REMEMBER that "Ovaltine" is not a mere mixture of powdered malt, milk powder, dried eggs and cocoa. It is an entirely original product prepared from malt extract, fresh creamy milk and new-laid eggs. It is prepared according to a formula and by a scientific method which are exclusively used for "Ovaltine."

WILL INDIAN RECREATION CLUB WIN JUNIOR CRICKET SHIELD?

SOOKUNPOO CLUB'S CHANCES OF DOING THE DOUBLE AGAIN.

UNIVERSITY BEAT HONG KONG CRICKET CLUB. NAVY GO DOWN TO KOWLOON.

The most important league cricket match played over the week-end was the game between Indian Recreation Club and Royal Army Service Corps and by reason of their win the Indians, who are, incidentally, holders of the shield, have placed themselves at the top of the league table. They now have to meet Kowloon Cricket Club and as a draw will give them the necessary points to retain the shield, it is more than likely that the Sookunpoo club will repeat their success of last season and bring off a "double" as their first eleven have already won the senior shield.

Three league games were played on Saturday but none of these had any bearing on the league.

The corrected league tables now stand as follows:—

CHRISTMAS FROLIC WINS FANLING GRAND NATIONAL.

MISS FEARON WINS LADIES' RACE WITH THE CROOK. MRS. SOARES FINISHES SECOND.

OUTSIDER PAYS BIG DIVIDEND IN LAST RACE.

[By "MORNING DEW"]

There was the usual big attendance at the Kwant Race Course yesterday when the Fanling Hunt and Race Club held their Easter Race Meeting.

The main race of the day, the Fanling Grand National and Pierce Grove Memorial Cup, was won by Christmas Frolic, ably ridden by Mr. Stanton. A comparative outsider in Duke of Milan filled second place.

The Ladies' Mile drew no fewer than nine starters, and the honour of winning fell to Miss Fearon, who rode The Crook in "great style." Mrs. A. M. L. Soares finished second on Kanpaz and Miss P. Scott Harston finished third on Trigo.

Mr. H. P. Rees started two ponies in the Novices race and his candidates finished first and second, respectively.

The cross-country race fell to a comparative outsider to Winchester Stag, which paid his supporters a little more than 20-1 for a win.

Of the winners, no fewer than five were tipped in the Hong Kong Daily Press on Saturday.

"DAILY PRESS" TIPS FIVE WINNERS.

There were five starters for the opening race of the day, a steeplechase over a mile and a quarter. Herga, Mouche and Loch Ryan were about equally backed. From the start the three ponies stayed together, but after the first half mile, Mouche began to drop back, leaving the contest to Herga and Loch Ryan. The two came into the straight together, and although Herga was first over the last jump by a mere fraction, Loch Ryan just caught him up in time to get the verdict by a short head. Mouche finished up third many lengths behind.

THE LONGCHAMPS PLATE.

There were as many as ten starters in this race over a mile and three quarters, with Daylight Eve a red hot favourite. The pony led all the way home, closely attended by Target and winning eventually by three quarters of a length. African Eve finished third and Movanager, which was prominent in the early part of the race, fourth.

FANLING GRAND NATIONAL.

Christmas Frolic, Duke of Milan, Royal Flush and Marquis Hall finished in that order in the main race of the day, a steeplechase over 2½ miles. Marquis Hall, taking advantage of his light weight, took the lead early on, but set a pace which was a bit too fast. Christmas Frolic, Royal Flush and Duke of Milan followed in that order. After a mile, Marquis Hall began to tire and Christmas Frolic and Royal Flush both passed him. Half a mile from home, the field closed up again, but Christmas Frolic and Royal Flush drew out before reaching the straight and entered it together. Royal Flush then showed signs of tiring and Duke of Milan from the rear came up with a great burst and almost won the race, being only three quarters of a length behind the winner.

NEW SOUTH WALES PLATE.

Fritz had matters all its own way in the race for Australians and won comfortably from Rose-drop which was the only pony to put up any kind of a race. St. Moritz finished third and Kobibel was last.

THE HUNAN STAKES.

This flat race for novices proved an easy win for Sunning, ridden by his owner, who got to the front early on and was never headed again. Glorious Stag, also belonging to Mr. Rees, took second place and Celerity finished third. Sonny Boy, after starting off well, failed to respond to his jockey's asking after three furlongs.

THE LADIES' MILE.

There were nine starters in this race which excited a good deal of interest. The Crook, getting off to a good start, led all the way round but in the straight, the winner was well-ridden to stall, off a challenge from Mrs. Soares on Kanpaz. Miss Harston on Trigo finished third.

THE RESULTS.

1.—The Antauil Steeplechase. 1½ miles for China ponies. Messrs. Dyer and Belth's Loch Ryan (Mr. Stanton) 1. Mr. P. O. Potts' Herga (Mr. Charles) 2. Mr. A. R. B. Mouche (Mr. Corbett) 3. Won by a head many lengths between second and third. Winner: $3.20. Places: $2.20; $2.54. Also ran: Flywheel (Mr. Ferguson); Hubilau (Mr. Beck).

lan; Kirribilli (Mr. Beck); Mouche (Mr. Corbett); Onnis (Mr. Dennison); Ploughman (Mr. Harrison); Purity (Mr. Clark); The Ploughman (Mr. Clark); The Wing (Mr. Butler).
